THE ELECTION ON TUESDAY NEXT.

Tuesday next will decide the destiny of the nation for the next four years to come. Every freeman should take into consideration that his individual ballot is of the utmost importance on the coming occasion, as it will seal the decision given on the 8th of October last. But a few days remain for final action. The work is not all done—nothing should be left to fortuitous happenings. The successes in October were the fruits of hard work wisely directed, and vigorously prosecuted. The Republican party is less indebted to political accident, as it is sometimes termed, than any party that has wielded power in this country. Therefore its victories have been exceptionally substantial and its triumphs lasting. Prodigious as the folly of the Democracy has been, the Republican party is not indebted to that for a single victory. Egregiously as the Democracy have blundered, their blunders have only incidentally profited the Republican party.

The Republican party cannot afford to depend upon past successes. It owes everything to unremitting labor, and upon that sturdy creditor it must continue to depend. It is not necessary to go back to the beginning of the October campaign and fight it all over again. That work was well done. It is only necessary now to take up the work and carry it on. The work of organizing is over and the organization must now be energized and directed. There is no time for elaborate discussions of the issues of the day, and if there were, it would not be necessary. That part of the work was thoroughly done weeks ago. The work of converting men, for this year, is over. But it is all-important that Republicans work together, and work with a will, until the polls close on the night of the 5th of November.

While we do not regard the party in a condition of apathy, or even subject to the reaction of overwork, we cannot omit to warn the sanguine that there is danger in over-confidence. The opposition is beaten, discouraged, and sullen. But the Democracy have not abandoned the field. Under the monotonous sunshine of Mr. Greeley's arithmetic even, the leaders do not wait or work in hope. They do not expect to win; but as that party is a party whose victories have been rather fortuitous than compelled, some among them live in a sort of expectancy that the old run of Democratic luck may set in about the 5th of November. Others, wiser, only work to avert annihilation. The dreamers, the disciples of luck, may be left to dream their dreams; but, for wiser ones, who are now casting about for safe anchorage when the November storm shall catch the Democratic ship on a lee shore—these are worth combating. There is no hope for that party except in a thorough disintegration of its organization. It has outlived its usefulness as a check to its powerful antagonist. The two great parties in a Republic should not be so utterly divided on all great questions affecting the common weal. A party which devotes its energies to pulling down, exclusive, is not fit to live. Under the direction of sordid and disappointed men the Democratic party is committed to a destructive policy beyond withdrawal. It blindly casts about to see how best it may undo what has been done, but never proposes to substitute anything in the place of that which it burns to destroy. Even as a minority party it is dangerous. It aims to combine all the destructive elements of society, and wield the combination as a certain power in an emergency. The duty of Republicans, whose policy it is to build up, lies in wiping out the opposition as a party. They will never have an opponent worthy of their steel unless they unhorse the men who now control the Democratic party. They have committed an act of supreme folly this year, and their unseating is rendered easy. There should be a grand rally of our forces everywhere, that these, the last days of the to be memorable campaign of 1872 may be filled with labor, and made, if possible, more glorious than those 1868.

GRANT'S SELF-RESPECT.—President Grant has borne himself throughout the Presidential canvass in such a manner as to greatly increase the high respect in which he was already held by the nation. He has acted with a calm dignity and a self-respecting reserve conspicuously contrasting with the indecorous spectacle, the piteous appeals, and the nauseating abasement exhibited by the morbid and infatuated Greeley. Instead of traveling about the land soliciting votes for himself and playing every disgusting part to win them, he has preserved a becoming silence and a manly attitude. He has demeaned himself from the beginning with the spirit which befits his position as President and a Presidential candidate.

A minister made an interminable call upon a lady of his acquaintance. Her little daughter, who was present, grew very weary of his conversation, and at last whispered in an audible key, "didn't he bring his amen with him, mamma?"

publish in another column the address of the Chairman of the Republican Committee of Luzerne county, in which it is alleged that great frauds were committed in the city of Scranton, by the Democrats. It seems that Democrats repeated the Lecompton frauds, and that there were over 1,200 illegal votes polled in the 12th ward. An investigation is promised, and as the frauds will be clearly proven, it will give all the county offices voted for this year, and two of the Assemblymen to the Republican candidates instead of Democrats who have the returns. The frauds in that ward have been as notorious as were those of New York city, and the honest men of both parties demand an investigation. This is, no doubt, one of the great frauds committed while our neighbor of the Democrat has been complaining of since the October election.

WHAT THE BUSINESS-MEN OF NEW YORK SAY.—To business-men all over the Union, the simple statement lately made by the leading business-men of New York, of their reasons for supporting General Grant, will carry great weight. The Treasury has been prudently and faithfully managed; the debt has been paid at a rate exceeding $100,000,000 a year; taxes have been reduced at the rate of $170,000,000. These facts are presented "for the information of whom they may concern." In reality they concern everybody, and the fact that they are vouched for by so many able and wealthy merchants and bankers of the great commercial centre of the country, will command attention. The document is one of the most noteworthy of the campaign, and we regret that we have not room to publish it.

THEN AND THERE.—Mr. Greely has repeatedly said that the Republican party saved the Union, and that the Democrats repudiated the public debt, and has always been the promoter of wise and beneficent measures. He has often asserted that the Democratic party uniformly opposed these measures and strove to bring disaster and ruin upon the nation. Nevertheless, he now asks the people to repudiate the party of progress and reform, in favor of a party which, according to his own showing, has been criminally wrong for a quarter of a century.

We hope the Democracy will have more auspicious weather when they celebrate the election of Horace Greeley to the Presidency.—Democrat.

No doubt of it. When that happens the sky will surely fall, and we will all catch larks, and, in addition, the editor of the Democrat may be able to catch Yerkes, after whom he has been so eagerly inquiring.

TRIALS OF THE TAMMANY RING.—Oakey Hill the Mayor of New York, is being tried for malfeasance and corruption in office, and thus far the evidence of Garvey, one of the Ring who has turned State evidence, and others, prove thus far all that has been said against the enormous plunderings of the municipal treasury. They are almost incredible. The trial of Tweed and others will soon follow that of Hall. Frauds are being exposed against other parties; for instance, on Saturday it was announced that indictments had been found against Daniel D. Conover and George H. Plunkett of the present Board of Aldermen, and Isaac Robinson and Edward Castello, of the old board, for frauds relating to the ceiling of city property in the upper part of New York for railroad purposes.

The Catawissa Railroad has been leased by the Reading Railroad Company for 999 years. The Reading Eagle gives the following as the substance of the terms of the lease: The Catawissa Railroad is to receive each year 30 per cent of the gross receipts, the Reading to guarantee the first year the interest on all loans and $154,000; the second year the interest and $178,000; the third year the interest and $202,000; the fourth year and ever after, the interest and $225,000. The Catawissa railroad is to issue $1,000,000 new stock to bear interest in 1874 of 24 per cent; in 1875 of 43 per cent, and in 1876 and ever after, 7 per cent. The preferred stockholders are to be authorized to subscribe at the rate of forty-five shares for every one hundred shares in stock, and to pay for the same by relinquishing all the claims for arrears of dividends. In case the receipts for any one year shall fall short of the amount named above for said year, the Reading Railroad Company to have no claim on the receipts of any other year. From this date the Reading Railroad will learn the cause of the large advance in the price of the preferred shares. The lease is considered mutually advantageous by the respective parties to it, and as the asset of the stockholders on neither side is required to ratify the agreement, it may be considered accomplished.

The Illinois State Zeitung, the principal organ of the German Republicans of the Northwest, pays the following deserving tribute to their fellow countrymen in Pennsylvania for their substantial service they rendered in helping to win the late magnificent victory in this State. Remarkable on the stupping tour of Senator Schurz, just previous to the election, that paper gages the effects of his labors here by the following figures: "There are twenty-five counties in the State in which the German element numbers above 1,000 souls. In these counties the Republican party lost not only not a single vote, but gained in comparison with former elections no less than 15,922 votes. Yes, the Germans do their own thinking, and are no 'great man's voting cuttie.'"

No class of voters, as a whole, have a clearer insight into politics, or exercise a more intelligent firmness in adhering to their principles, than our German fellow citizens.

DEATH OF MRS. GREELEY.—Mrs. Horace Greeley died at the residence of Mr. Alvin Johnson, in New York city, on Wednesday last. Mrs. Greeley had been a confirmed invalid, suffering from a serious consumptive complaint for several years, and for some days past her death was hourly expected.

The Scranton Republican says the registry in the Twelfth ward of Scranton was 661; the Democratic majority in the ward 1216. The Democratic papers assert that there were frauds in the recent elections in Pennsylvania. Who can deny it in view of the fact above stated? Is this the "reform" to which we have been invited?

The Land Slide.

ACCIDENT ON THE NORTHERN CENTRAL.—The York Daily in extra on Saturday gives the following account of the accident caused by a land slide near York: "Early this morning Conductor Harris, who had in charge the Western express (north), arrived at the depot on foot, stating that his train was wrecked near Minich's crossing, about three miles south of York, but on account of the dense darkness of the night the situation of affairs could not be seen, and therefore but few particulars could be given by him at that time.

The Cincinnati express (south) was the first train that came along from which any assistance could be rendered. The wreck happened, with the train, were immediately ordered out, and after they did arrive, could do but little until daylight. It appears that as the train came dashing around the curve at that place the engine and every car in the train was thrown off the track on account of a land slide on the south side of the track. The engine ran some distance, tearing both the tracks, and then fell on the right side on the west track, crushing the engine, who was at his post. He suffered about ten minutes and then expired.

The fireman was also painfully injured, but, notwithstanding his intense sufferings, he was found trying to extricate his unfortunate companion. An express car, a baggage car, and one passenger car were precipitated down an embankment, and the ends were resting in the water, which brought to York about five o'clock. He is the level of the track, and which the Colorado overflowed at the time. The other cars, fortunately, were not upset.

The passengers aboard the wrecked train, of whom, fortunately, all escaped unhurt, notwithstanding some of them were considerably tumbled around in the sea, were taken aboard the Cincinnati express, which returned and took them, and the passengers aboard the Cincinnati express went into the rear cars of the wrecked train, which by this time were again placed on a right engine.

On arriving at the scene of confusion about daylight the sight was terrible. The engine is a complete wreck. It was engine No. 132. The name of the engineer was John Curry, a single man, whose home is at Phoenix, Maryland. His remains were brought to York about five o'clock. The fireman is John Hess, a married man, whose injuries are not considered dangerous. He was taken to his home in Baltimore.

The cars that were precipitated down the embankment appear to be but slightly damaged. Both the east and west tracks were torn up some distance, and the rails were lying around in all directions. A number were broken. There were already quite a number of workmen engaged in relaying the east track which by this time is finished. The west track is not expected to be ready for use to-day.

It took but a short time to clear the track of the ground and stones which had slid down on it, as the quantity was not large, and was, no doubt, washed down by the late rains.

The officers of the road are deserving of much credit for the judicious manner in which they managed everything in connection with the disaster.

Mr. Daniel Cameron, one of the employees on the wreck train, was considerably bruised in his side while assisting in clearing away the debris, by being struck with a piece of link that flew from a train that broke.

Shortly after ten o'clock the Niagara express came in, and after eleven o'clock the fast line, Harrisburg accommodation and Pacific express went south, and the mail train came in about noon.

Mr. Buckalew is very sad because of his want of success in getting to be Governor. His friends, to console him, are trying to get one of the Democrats elected to the Constitutional Convention to resign and permit Buckalew to take his place. A modest suggestion. What an inveterate placid hunter Buckalew is!

Eighteen years ago the place where Omaha, Neb., stands was a piece of unimproved prairie. It now contains 20,000 inhabitants.

A woman was burned to death at Hickendauqua, Lehigh county, last week, by the explosion of a kerosene lamp she was attempting to fill while burning.

FRAUDS IN LUZERNE COUNTY.

THE COUNTY AND LEGISLATURE TO INVESTIGATE THEM.—800 VOTES REGISTERED AND 1,000 DEMOCRATS TO MAJORITY IN ONE DISTRICT.—LEGALLY APPOINTED OFFICERS DRIVEN FROM THE POLLS.

The following account issued by the Republican County Committee of Luzerne county details the monstrous outrages committed by the Democrats of that county. Honest Democrats and Republicans, read it carefully!

HEADQUARTERS UNION REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE OF LUZERNE COUNTY, WILKESBARRE, Pa., 25th October, 1872. To the Republicans of Luzerne County: You have rejoiced over the splendid victory won in Pennsylvania at the October election. In that you have also been congratulated by all good citizens everywhere.

You had special reasons for rejoicing and congratulations over the local victory won in our own county. Confronted as you were by a well organized, defiant and insolent organization of your adversaries—you have crushed them in defeat. Your opponents had fraudulently filled the registry with the last line, and had surrounded the ballot boxes in very many Districts with a cordon of trained villains and unscrupulous ruffians. So completely had they attempted to take possession of the avenues to the polls, to the exclusion of honest men, that in their moments of madness, they claimed that Luzerne County, would give the coalition 7,500 majority.

Your vigilance, courage and energy destroyed this vast machinery of fraud everywhere, except in four precincts in the city of Scranton. There, the Democrats, aided by your court were brutally attacked, and by violence driven from their seats at the election polls, not only by roughs but even by sworn officers of the election.

Fraud, violence and crime overbore the honest voters of the city. The result, a registry of about 800 voters, returned a Democratic majority of more than 1,500. This catalogue of crimes against the ballot culminated in a forgery and alteration of the returns, to count in their candidates defeated, notwithstanding the monstrous frauds perpetrated at the polls. You indignantly resented this crime on the whole people, and your committee promptly took all necessary steps to mete out to the offenders the punishment which shall be due them after full investigation, in the criminal and civil courts. This investigation will be thoroughly and impartially conducted in the courts before the Legislature.

Baffled and alarmed, the skilled engineers of this wickedness are endeavoring to divert attention from their crimes, and avoid the consequences of their iniquity, by instituting counter-actions—the fruits of perjury and subornation of perjury against several members of your committee, and their active Republican friends. You may rest well assured that your friends thus assailed, court the injury, defy their accusers, and will thoroughly vindicate themselves before all judicial tribunals and at the bar of public opinion.

To you, Republican voters of Luzerne county, we say, be not diverted from your duty in November, by the incidents. Let every true man in his own neighborhood press on in the work still before us. Do not wait for work to be assigned to you. Do not see the work as yours. This shall victory in November again come to your banners, and you will rejoice in a land saved from the hands of plunderers and corruptors who have attempted to seize upon it.

By order of the Committee. J. E. SROUTSBURG, Chairman. HENRY M. HART, Secretary.

THE EPIZOOTIC. From the New York World. The horses raised on Sunday by the fine state of weather, which was reasonable to prophesy for yesterday, were not fulfilled, and lively stable owners, express companies, truck proprietors, and merchants who have goods to transport throughout the city were generally despondent.

For the horse epidemic, instead of being mitigated in its form and violence, seemed to have increased in both and where only sick horses were reported on Saturday, dead horses were found yesterday. Nations fatal cases, something over 200 in number, were reported at the different precincts yesterday morning, and intelligence of more were hourly coming in. Several of the leading physicians of the Board of Health express the opinion that the disease will remain prevalent in its present form, before long mankind may expect to suffer from its effects.

THE EFFECT ON THE BUSINESS MEN. The cars and stages on most of the lines, however, were running, with the number of trips greatly reduced, so that the chief difficulty lay with the merchants. Draymen are becoming comparatively millionaires—those of them who have horses to work. Along the North River pier merchandise is piled up in huge heaps. More than half the cargo of the Baltic Lloyd's steamer Franklin, which arrived last Wednesday, still lies on the wharf, and there is no immediate prospect that horses can be obtained to transport it.

Thousands of cotton bales remain in the different slips, and merchants are compelled to pay fabulous prices to have them moved. At Pier 20 East 31 a bale was paid, and one person received $36 for carrying a single bale. The wharves of the Boston and Providence steamship line are literally covered with freight, some of which has been lying there for days. The officers of the New Jersey Railroad Company say that an immense quantity of freight is awaiting shipment at the pier used by that corporation.

Washburn's Oct. 28. In Paris.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Representatives of two German-American associations today presented Hon. Elihu B. Washburn an address expressive of their grateful recognition of his kindness towards German residents of Paris during the horrors of the siege, in not only carrying out the liberal instructions of his Government, but in the voluntary sacrifice of his own personal comforts, and giving cheerfully from his own stores to needy and starving Germans.

Minister Washburn, in reply, says the credit for his acts is due the Administration of President Grant, under whose specific direction he complied with the request of the German government to assume the protection of the Germans in France. He felt that he correctly interpreted the feelings of the Government and people of the United States when he followed the inclination of his own heart in doing what he did. If he was able to send thirty thousand Germans out of Paris before the gates of the city were finally closed it was because of the unbounded liberality of the German government in furnishing means, and the French government gave him every support. If he was able during the last terrible days of the siege to secure protection and furnish means of support to three thousand Germans, who looked to our legation, it was because the Government of National Defence caused his position to be respected; if he was able after the siege to continue that protection it was because he had the support of the French Republic, and that illustrious man, M. Thiers, who is at the head of the government.

"And perhaps," says Mr. Washburn, "nothing could better exemplify the power of our country and the respect paid our flag than that the Commune of Paris, in its career of crime and blood, released on my stand more than a hundred Germans who had been thrown into prison, guilty of any crime and subjected to frightful persecution."

A Boston Being Afflicted with the Epizootic. Hoston, Oct. 26.—Very few horses are seen in the streets. Market men, ice dealers, city expressmen, and all the various departments of business in which horses are necessary are at a stand still, causing much inconvenience. Hand carts are in demand, and numerous wagons laden with perishable articles for delivery at depots and for family use are seen in the streets drawn by men. The only encouraging feature is that so few cases are fatal. The first known and authenticated case of the disease now so prevalent among horses being communicated to a human being was reported here to-day. Russel White, driver of engine No. 4 while attending his horses was suddenly taken with the disease and was conveyed to his home. He had all the symptoms of the disease, coughing, running at the nose and eyes and general feverish delirium.

Italy is suffering now from a much more extensive disaster than that which lately waste her valleys when the fires of Mt. Vesuvius broke out, last summer. The Po has often overflowed its banks, devastating the country which it usually fertilizes and sweeping away houses and vineyards. But this inundation seems to be more serious than any which has lately been reported, and the suffering which it entails will be very great.
